AMP can lead to workplace ice-cream orgies

AMP Energy Juice stages an office ice-cream orgy in this tasty spot by Proximity in Canada. Those cube drones lap the stuff up in kinky fashion, and the boss heartily approves. Must be an ad agency. AMP gave the dead-eyed salaryman the boost he needed to create an ice-cream making robot. A while back, I tried to build a similar dessert-dispensing robot from old PC monitors and hard drives here at AdFreak, but it just started rambling about ridding the world of "use-less hu-mans." Though when it vaporized the HR department, no one seemed to mind.
